Dr. Jeffrey W. Runge, Administrator
National Highway Traffic and Safety Administration
Washington, D.C.

Dear Dr. Runge,

The Union of Concerned Scientists has recently unveiled the Guardian, an SUV blueprint that could save thousands of lives each year from rollover and crash-related accidents and boost fuel economy, realizing a $2400 savings to its owner over an average lifetime. The Guardian also provides the same acceleration and power as a Ford Explorer.

So please help us push for the production of this technologi, so we may see more road safety and less global warming emissions.

Sincerely,
Betty Schilling
