Dear Dr. Runge:

I understand there is a review underway on safety and SUV's. As a driver with an environmental conscience, I admit I resent the extra gas consumption and pollution caused by SUV's; they should be firmly restricted. As driver of a standard car, I also resent the SUV drivers who freely admit they drive an SUV to be sure they will receive less damage than I will in a collision with my car. Not much can be done about that except to raise their insurance rates to cover the increased damage they cause but do not receive. Sincerely—

F. W. Keith
