Dear Dr. Runge, NHTSA-03-16128-47

I am writing to you as a concerned citizen upset by the lack of action on the part of the Bush administration in the area of automotive safety and fuel economy. More fuel efficient vehicles will do much to cut our reliance on foreign oil supplies thus aiding national security. It would also improve the environment by cutting smog and green house gases.

The Union of Concerned Scientists prototype SUV vehicle the Guardian shows that the technology already exists to produce better, safer vehicles.

In spite of the campaign contributions of the auto industry to President Bush, I urge you to do your job as Chief of the National Highway Traffic and Safety administration and push for higher safety and fuel efficiency standards for SUVs and all vehicles that are driven in the United States. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Robert A. Dutra
