

It is imperative that airlines file reports on incidents involving animals and not only the pets of U.S. families. The final rule must define "animal" in the broader sense, including zoo animals, animals being transported for research, etc.