RE: FAA Docket #1999-5836, Notice No. 99-09
Request for Extension of Time for Comments

Our company, FAA Repair Station # XJ3R937L, hereby formally requests an extension of time for comments.

In view of the fact that this proposed rule has been under consideration since 1975, and since the proposed changes will involve, and to some degree regulate, outside sources, it is mandatory that we and our sources have adequate time to review, discuss and respond.

Due to the scope of changes and regulations involved, we believe it imperative that all parties must be given adequate time.

The NRPM deadline of October 19, 1999 is insufficient. It should be extended until at least January 1, 2000.

Sincerely,

AEROTRON AIRPOWER, INC.
