

This is outrageous. This will substantially affect the peace and quiet of the community. you cannot utilize a one size fits all solution. We have several trains lines running right through our community and we have full gates. that is different than a rural area with no gates. This must be left to the local level. Your own study shows up to 15% of the residents may think about moving. Do you have any idea how much property values will be affected. The cost benefit anlysis clearly favors local enforcement.
