

I am a flight attendant. I support providing the flight attendant legal protection under a good samaritan law that would provide tort immunity to the flight attendant(s) providing emergency medical care, except in the case of gross negligence. Otherwise, as an example, I may not respond as quickly or aggressively as I otherwise might react under emergency conditions out of fear of being sued while performing life-saving first aid.