

One of my friends husband died because the propoer equipment was not on the plane. My wife is a doctor and she has often stressed the need for AED's at all locations including planes. I hope that this becomes law and unnecessary tragic losses like this become a thing of the past.