

FAR 91.609(g), 121.359(h), and 125.227(f) all contain the same wording. In pertinent part they state: "The Administrator does not use the cockpit voice recorder record in any civil penalty or certificate action." How, then, does the FAA explain it's stance regarding the possible use of FOQA data for enforcement action?