

Please reconsider your proposal to limit banner-towing over sporting events. I am a pilot who makes my living towing banners - this restriction will put our entire industry out of business. We believe that the entire motivation of this regulation is for greed of the event organizers. America was not designed to regulate airspace and no event promoter has authority of our skys... therefore it is our belief that their desire to "charge" admission for us to use "their" event's airspace is entirely out of line.... please do not even consider this crazy idea.... If they are appealing to safety, we all know that aircraft over an event is no more unsafe than aircraft over any populated area... it just isn't true and is based entirely on advertising greed.
