Re: Docket No. FAA-2000-8274 - 47

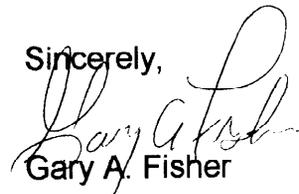

Dear Ma'am or Sir:

Having worked within the national airspace system for a number of years as a general aviation pilot, I have had first-hand experience with temporary flight restrictions.

From my experience, it seems there are provisions already in place to impose such restrictions when necessary. To make it easier to impose flight restrictions will lead to arbitrary and unnecessary restrictions being authorized.

I am opposed to the implementation of the FAA-2000-8274 NPRM.

Sincerely,

Gary A. Fisher
