

I do not believe we want 18 year olds driving eighteen wheelers down our interstate highway systems. The large trucks present too much danger to other drivers as it is - even with experienced older drivers. The Insurance Industry has already determined the higher risk of accidents with the younger age group.