

I hope that it does not become possible for teenagers to drive big rigs. Just listening to the stories of accidents and joy-riding that my teenage students tell me, indicates that they are not responsible nor skilled enough for such a task. Not to mention the actual statistics. Please do not let such a proposal go any further.

Natalie Maxwell