

I believe it would be a mistake to allow the driving age for truckers to be lowered to include teens. The accident and death rate of teen drivers has soared over the last few years. And this is driving non commercial vehicles. If we allow them to get behind the wheel of a big rig we are opening the doors for alot more deaths and accidents.