

I would strongly be in favour of the stricter of the 2 proposed tire pressure check devices, since monitoring all 4 running tires on a regular vehicle would seem more than a reasonable requirement. Also the 20% deflation limit would serve to increase savings to the vehicle operator in fuel and tire costs.