

To whom it may concern:

I don't have diabetes, but many of my loved ones do. A blanket ban against insulin-dependent drivers from obtaining a commercial driver's license is simple discrimination and, frankly, poor business practice.

Many people with diabetes have excellent control of their blood glucose levels and are in better health than many non-insulin dependent folks. It is simply unfair to withhold good paying jobs from these people because of your lack of comprehension about the care and management of this disease.

Thank you for your time.
