

I think that the High Intensity headlights are unsafe. Not only are they much more uncomfortable to pass in the dim position, but many drivers do not have their lights adjusted properly and the lights are pointed to high up at which point the light is unbearable. We must get rid of these dangerous lights on the road!