

In response to NHTSA 50-01 (Headlight Glare Issues). Yes I agree there is a real problem with many new headlights on vehicles. The blue lights are like looking at a welders (blinding) glare. Some inconsiderate motorist also install add on fog lights that are improperly angled up creating a strong glare also. Thanks Al