

I wanted to add my complaint about the high intensity headlights. When I am in the vicinity of such cars coming towards me I become blinded by the light. At first drawn to the light, distracted and then unable to see as after the old flash bulbs. I find them highly dangerous in all vehicles. The headlights regular or otherwise in SUVs and other tall vehicles are also very distracting