

Hi--

First of all, thanks for giving us the opportunity to comment.

I find that all three problems mentioned in the docket are very significant and potentially dangerous. Personally, I've been completely blinded for at least a second, and sometimes three or four seconds, especially by SUV lights that are very high and shine right at face level and extra lights that are placed improperly and create an extremely intense light. This problem is especially noticeable on the two-laned roads on which cars pass very close to one another; being blinded on that type of road is especially dangerous because of the fact that such roads tend to have more turns and curves.
