

When I drive at night I sometimes have trouble seeing the road after I dim my lights for other drivers and they dim theirs which automatically switches on a new set of lights under their regular ones. It is very distracting.