

Pratt & Whitney Engine Services, Inc., FAA Repair Station Certificate Number P8WR813J, files this response in full support of the United Technologies Corporation's (UTC) position on the Final Rule, Request for Comments for FAR 145, date October 3, 2001. We strongly urge the FAA to accept and act upon all of UTC comments, which were prepared in the support of UTC's 61 FAA certificated repair stations. We believe that detailed guidance material must be developed in a timely manner and reviewed by all entities to ensure that both repair stations and the FAA have a unified understanding of the requirements of Part 145.
