

One level of safety will not exist if you allow exceptions to be made. Ownership must not be a criteria for requiring Dispatchers. The type of operation must be the critical factor. If passengers are carried Dispatchers must be required. The public demands it. You must require it.