

As a Captain I feel my job is to get the aircraft safely on the ground, and not to be involved in a gunfight aloft. I strongly support reinforcement of the doors, and a universal flight crew ID, perhaps something with a microchip (AKA Smartcard). I am also a strong fan of profiling passengers, as politically incorrect as that might be. I like the idea of cameras in the cabin, but please keep the guns out of the cockpit. It will only add to the dangers.
