

I am a Pilot in North Carolina. I am not flying for a commercial entity but I do hold a commercial certificate.

I would COMPLETELY support airline pilots carrying weapons in the cockpit. Any pistol, or non lethal weapon the pilot feels would be comfortable to him or her, and ammunition that would be appropriate.

I personally would feel MUCH BETTER knowing that if a hijacker got into the cockpit of my airline that he may have to contend with two armed pilots staring back at him

Respectfully.

J. Jay Langley