

I believe that the technology of the RVSM will help pilots with situational awareness and therefore increase aviation safety. We need this use of technology in our world today. With this, delays and congestion of air traffic can be greatly reduced.