

The description of the change to this airspace is based on verbage that requires special knowledge that is not generally available. Please provide a better description of what the change will do. Does it move the north boundary further from LAX? If so how much? It would be nice to know the reason for the change. I believe that the requirement to maintain a constant altitude is well understood and does not require any clarification.