

Making this into Law without a provision for comment from the field is arrogant and abusive on the part of our Government.