

to whom it may concern,

We believe it is fine to revoke a persons airman certification if that person is shown to be a security risk of any kind. The safety of our fellow citizens is paramount. In every wartme situation since the dawn of history this has been so. If additional precautions were not required I'm sure an enemy used it to his advantage.