

We operate several farm trucks in Oregon. Most of them (6 of 7) do not even get 1000 miles per year. The most any get with F plates is about 3500 miles. It would put an undo burden on use comply with typical inspektion rules for trucks. They get most of their mileage during harvest in the summer time.