

Mr. Connor,

This citizen comment is regarding the noise limitations for aircraft operations in the vicinity of Grand National Park.

I believe that maintaining and protecting the national park experience is vital to commemorating our great country's history and refreshing the American spirit. Having this experience disrupted or undermined by noisy aircraft would result in a less impacting experience for all.

I urge you to support all proposals that limit the amount of technological disturbances to these areas. Our national parks are valuable, as is the experience they provide. Please don't allow these areas to be compromised by the aircraft regulations you influence.

There are few places as beautiful on this earth as the Grand Canyon. It should be every visitors' right to experience its majesty with as few reminders of technology as possible.

Thank you,

Chanel Teichert
