

We need to see that statistics that justify such a radical change in regulation. Don't you think that flight operations were affected enough over the last two years by 9/11, yet here you are trying to put more people out of work/business???