

This proposed rulemaking is not in the best interest of general aviation. This does the opposite of "promoting" aviation. The FAA should be going "out-of-their way to "help", not hurt aviation business. I do not have an aviation business but would "like" to have an aviation business in the near future. I for one will be doing all I can to stop this proposed rulemaking.