

I am very much in favor of allowing the new AirSep portable device for making oxygen out of air for passengers needing oxygen in flight. It contains no oxygen and uses simple molecular sieves to make oxygen from air. It is small and quiet and should cause no disturbance at all.