

With the price of fuel continuing to escalate, fuel economy has become of great concern to the middle and lower classes. Unlike the Europeans and Japanese, the United States limits the importation of the best fuel economic vehicles into the country. Honda now manufactures a 250cc scooter (fully automatic) called the PS250. It is the perfect size for commuting to and from work in a rural environment. Please allow Honda to import this new scooter.